We would like to welcome everyone to East Windsor Middle School. For the students returning, welcome back; for those entering for a first year, welcome to our middle school family. Your teachers, along with the entire staff wish you a happy and successful middle school experience. We hope that this year will provide you the opportunities to grow academically and socially as well.

This handbook was written as a guide to help you understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at EWMS and to help clarify procedures for you and your parents. If you have any questions, please contact the school at 623-4488.

Your teachers will review this handbook with you so that you have a good understanding of its content and what is expected of you. Our individual rights document is the cornerstone to the foundation of the type of civility that we should strive to develop. The document lays out your rights and responsibilities while at school. It reminds us that you are here to learn and teachers are here to help you learn. You have a right to develop your own personality and should not be teased or harassed for being who you are or what you think. We hope, through a series of units and lessons, to help you understand how to act and what to expect from others.

We are committed to helping you in your learning. We want to develop an open communication with you and encourage you to appropriately express yourself to your friends and teachers. Have a great year!

Sincerely,

James P. Slattery
